Quality child care plays a significant role for Queensland families and communities. It is also estimated that over 20,000 Queenslanders are employed in child care and early education services. Research shows that early childhood is a critical time in terms of development. The availability of quality child care services for Queensland children will directly contribute to positive outcomes later in life. The Department works to achieve the delivery of quality child care to meet the changing needs of Queensland families.

About Emergency First Response

Emergency First Response is the fastest-growing international CPR, Automated External Defibrillator (AED) and First Aid training company. Dedicated to training the lay rescuer, Emergency First Response courses encompass adult, child and infant CPR and first aid skills, and incorporate Automatic External Defibrillator (AED) training and emergency oxygen use. Emergency First Response also offers comprehensive First Aid at Work courses, specifically designed to meet compliance standards for workplace safety courses internationally. Emergency First Response courses are flexible in design to accommodate scheduling and training needs. They can be taught together or alone in any combination.

The company's award-winning courses, state-of-the-art training materials, and multi-media approach to training, build confidence in lay rescuers and increase their willingness to respond when faced with a medical emergency.
